This special section is brought to you by the Wyoming Tribune Eagle and many of our local restaurants and other eating establishments that are trying desperately to stay open in what might be the craziest times of most of our lives. This effort came together as a community service idea here at the WTE. Yes, we are a business, but the things we are facing today go beyond the almighty dollar – it goes to our viability as a community to come together, people helping people. To that end, we have offered both free and deeply discounted advertisements in this publication.

We hope this section helps you, the reader, when it comes to dining opportunities – granted, that will not be sitting down at a restaurant, but it still means having a great meal. Every person in our community is trying to navigate unprecedented times, be it their family struggles or their business struggles. As a community, we can come together and support each other in our own ways, one of which is spending a bit of our valuable resources to help keep our business community standing. That one meal you order, that one stop you make, could be enough to help them pay their employees for a few more days.

PLEASE REMEMBER TO STAY SAFE WHEN GOING OUT.
REMEMBER SOCIAL DISTANCING GUIDELINES, AND DON’T GO OUT IF YOU’RE NOT FEELING WELL.
WE WILL GET THROUGH THIS TOGETHER!

Cheyenne community,

First and foremost, THANK YOU for continuing to support our local restaurants through online delivery services, call in orders, and drive-thru.

While Applebee’s and Church’s Chicken are large brand names, and Dog Haus is new to our community, Goalz Restaurant Group is a locally owned restaurant company based here in Cheyenne that owns and operates these three brands in our community. Just like me and my family our restaurant employees are local… your neighbors, local students, and proud Wyomingites just like you. We want to express our deep appreciation and thanks, because your patronage allows us to keep our managers and staff members working!

Sincerely,

Shawn Eby
CEO, Goalz Restaurant Group
